Deacon's Corner

Last week we looked at the Gospel of John and Jesus's first appearance to the Apostles in the upper room. At that time he brought three gifts; peace, the mandate to preach, and mercy. Today Jesus now reaches out to the disciples, to all followers with his mission. Jesus calls all of us to be witnesses of his death and resurrection, forgiveness and the restoring of peace.

If there is not peace in ourselves, our personal lives, our community, our country and the world it is because we still don't get it. Peace comes through Jesus Christ; through true love of all God's creation, not from anything else will peace come. For those who are thinking I am calling for the evangelization and the conversion of all people to Catholicism as much as that would simplify many things it would change the world that He created. Remember he told Abraham that he would make him father of many nations, not just one. No it is simple in his first words after the resurrection to the Apostles, "Peace be with you."

For those who desire to find the road to peace, open your eyes to the whole world and all that Jesus is, spend some time meditating on John 1:1. See our Lord in the world since the beginning and you will see the road to peace.

May the peace of Christ be in you,

Deacon Mark

Thank you Lord Jesus, Come Holy Spirit

Our First Communicants

Dear Jesus,

Through bread and wine at the Last Supper, and by Your Holy Word, You gave the Eucharist to Your Church. Grant now that Addisyn Hedgorth, Hannah Holdman, Sally Hosking, Margaret Hill, and Kyle Pennington will always treasure the gift they have in You. Give them the grace to be faithful to You and to remain in communion with Your Church. When they receive their First Communion, the Bread of Life and Cup of Salvation, make them aware of the hope they have for eternal life in You. Amen. Congratulations to the First Communicants, their parents and teachers.
