Dynamic Catholic, Alive! – The Universal Call to Holiness

The saints are great models of holiness. But we are all called to live lives of holiness. The universal call to holiness was central to the Second Vatican Council. "Every member of the faithful is called to holiness and to mission" (Pope St. John Paul II). Taking on the Cross of Christ and following Him can be a difficult journey. Transform your journey today, through continuous improvement in small steps. Can you make 1 degree of spiritual progress this week? archstl.org/dynamic

Deacon's Corner

“The reason the world does not know us is that it did not know him.” Why is it that we are not recognized immediately as a Christian and as important, why are we not recognized as Catholic? Have you ever asked yourself this?

God has bestowed on us His love, we are given it freely, and yet, there is a cost. The cost is living out that love in all we do. To live as faithful Catholics and to not give into the easy road of the life of this world; how often do we compromise or adjust what should be the way for others to take part fully in our faith, so that their road is an easy one?

No pain, no gain, no sacrifice, no reward. We rob our youth and those coming into our faith each time we compromise to make easy the way, the hurdles that must be overcome to make the reward worth it. The result of a faith is whatever you put into it.

We are called to prepare the next generation of the flock to hear the Shepherds voice, to come when He calls. It is a language not spoken by all, a language of prayer and devotion, a language of contemplation and right action. It is a learned language, learned by observation and practice. We model our faith so that others will learn, if we are weak and compromising, then those that follow will not be strong enough and educated enough to face the wolves of this world and will succumb to them. He is the Good Shepherd we are his sheep; we are the body of Christ and we are called to prepare the lambs to hear the Shepherds call.

May the peace of Christ be in you,

Deacon Mark

Thank you Lord Jesus, Come Holy Spirit
