Dynamic Catholic – Alive

In The Four Signs of a Dynamic Catholic, Matthew Kelly wonders: “When was the last time you consciously sat down and explored God’s will for a particular situation?” In the Our Father, we pray that the Father’s will be done. The Apostle Paul tells us that through prayer we can discern “what is the will of God” (Romans 12:2). Is your life one of surrender to God’s will? God has a plan for our lives; we just have to listen. archstl.org/dynamic

Deacon's Corner

"The mode of Christ's presence under the Eucharistic species is unique. It raises the Eucharist above all the sacraments as "the perfection of the spiritual life and the end to which all the sacraments tend." In the most blessed sacrament of the Eucharist "the body and blood, together with the soul and divinity, of our Lord Jesus Christ and, therefore, the whole Christ is truly, really, and substantially contained."(CCC1374)

So often not understood or often forgotten, is the way we receive the Eucharist species and in who can receive it. This is "truly" Christ and as such should be received in a way that shows to us and to all present that we are receiving Him. It should not be snatched from the priest or deacons hand as if you are a children grabbing a piece of candy. With head bowed and hand out stretched, dominant hand under the receiving hand to then be placed into your mouth or head slightly looking upward, mouth open and tongue out to allow the Eucharist species to be placed gently on the tongue.

The often misunderstood "who can receive": only those who are properly prepared should receive; those who are not united with all the Church teachings and commands should not be doing so. If you are approaching the Eucharist in mortal sin, for example having remarried without an annulment, or in a sexual relationship outside of marriage or having any other sin of a grave nature first reconcile with God through the sacrament of Reconciliation, make right your life and then approach. It is not only for you but for the whole of the Church.

May the peace of Christ be in you,

Deacon Mark

Thank you Lord Jesus , Come Holy Spirit
