Stewardship Reflections

“He called them, and immediately they left their boat and their father and followed Him.” Matthew 4:22

Just as Jesus called the first apostles, He calls each of us to follow Him, too. Not everyone is called to leave their business or family behind, but we are expected to put God first in everything. Everything from our time in daily prayer, our talent in participating in one of our parish ministries and our treasure to support the financial needs of our parish mission.

From the Pastor's Pen

The Catechism of the Catholic Church teaches us about the care and respect for the body of the deceased:

The bodies of the dead must be treated with respect and charity, in faith and hope of the Resurrection. The burial of the dead is a corporal work of mercy; it honors the children of God, who are temples of the Holy Spirit (2300).

The body (cremated remains) of the deceased Christian is either buried in the ground (internment) or entombed in a mausoleum (columbarium, in the case of cremated remains) (entombment) until the resurrection on the Last Day.

The Rite of Committal of the body (cremated remains) is an integral part of the Order of Christian Funerals. However, there is the tendency to detach the Rite of Committal from the other rites of Christian burial. Unless it is impossible to bury or entomb the body after the Funeral Mass or Funeral Liturgy, Church norms call for the internment of the body promptly after the Funeral Mass or Funeral Liturgy.

In the event that the remains are cremated after the Funeral Mass or Funeral Liturgy, arrangements should be made for internment/inurnment as soon as possible, so the cremated remains of the body are not kept in the funeral home or the family home. Cremated remains are to be given the same dignity and respect as the body. The Office of Sacred Worship respectfully reminds all pastors, associate pastors, and pastoral ministers that when arranging funerals at your parishes, to pastorally remind family members that if cremation is part of the planning, the internment/inurnment of the cremated remains must be done promptly after the Funeral Mass or cremation .

(cf. Order of Christian Funerals #430).
